

CALL FOR PAPERS – Deadline 31 May 2024

“Inflation, Inflation Expectations, and Policy: New Perspectives”

Bank of Italy - SUERF Conference, Rome, hybrid, November 18-19, 2024

Motivation and content

The focus of the conference, jointly organised by the Bank of Italy and SUERF - The European Money and Finance forum, is on the determinants of the rise and fall of inflation in the post-pandemic period, the implications of a fast-changing inflation environment on agents' behaviour and expectations, and the challenges for policymakers.

We aim to provide a platform for researchers from academia, central banks, and other policy institutions to present and discuss their findings related to inflation dynamics and expectations and policy reactions.

Topics of particular interest include, but are not limited to:

- Drivers of inflation and of inflation expectations in the post-pandemic world
- Measures of underlying inflation and inflation persistence
- Global supply-side drivers of inflationary pressures
- Micro evidence on price-setting behaviour and inflation dynamics
- Formation of inflation expectations and their impact on economic decisions
- Inflation (in)attention, anchoring of expectations and monetary policy communication

Keynote speakers

Philip R. Lane (ECB) will give the SUERF Marjolin Lecture. Prof. Gauti B. Eggertsson (Brown University) and Prof. Michael Weber (Chicago Booth) will give academic keynotes.

Paper submission, important dates and SUERF Marjolin Prize

We invite the submission of theoretical and empirical papers. Manuscripts must be submitted via ConferenceMaker (link) by 31 May 2024.

Authors of accepted papers will be notified by 31 July 2024. Limited reimbursements for travel and accommodation are available only for academic speakers.

The best paper by an economist under the age of 40 will be awarded the SUERF Marjolin Prize of EUR 3,000.
